

| Sentinel-2 image matching algo boost ideas

It will be better to just use some pre-trained CNNs like VGG16, ResNet or make a model ensemble with classical and deep learning approaches. Also, increasing the quality of images can significantly affect the quality of matching. Perhaps it is worth considering less quality loss under the frame rate of image preprocessing or the use of binary masks